REPORTS OF EVACUATION OF SAGHALIEN NOT CORRECT

Tokio Press In Error As To Cabinet Decision

IS UNDER DEBATE

Withdrawal From Nikolaevsk "Being Considered"

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, July 12.—The newspapers of the 12th published a report that all of the Japanese forces in Saghalien and Nikolaevsk were to be withdrawn as the result of a decision reached at a Cabinet meeting.

From an authentic source, however, it is learned that Japanese forces in North Saghalien will not be evacuated until the affairs in Nikolaevsk are solved. Thus the reported decision of the Cabinet about evacuation is not correct.

However, the evacuation of the Japanese forces stationed at Nikolaevsk and Decastrie on the opposite bank at Saghalien is under consideration.

CABLE PUBLISHED

Question Of Railless Program Still To Be Cleared Up

Correspondence given in today's issue of the Municipal Gazette discloses that many of the questions raised between the Council and the Shanghai Electric Construction company in connection with the general project of extending rail and railless tramway facilities have been adjusted and it is thought that the huge task of enlarging Shanghai's tramway services can be undertaken in a comparatively short period.

In addition to the plans considerably to enlarge the tram rail service the more important railless tram extensions contemplated in the general project are set forth in a portion of a report of the Commissioner of Public Works which includes anticipated dates of completion. The order of reconstruction given is as follows:

"Work will be suspended during the cold months, viz., December to March inclusive, as the type of pavement being laid cannot be put down in cold weather."

ONE POINT OPEN

While major points are cleared up in the most recent correspondence between the Council and the Company, a matter that remains to be settled and agreed to by the company has to do with a portion of the program for railless extensions.

Accompanying a communication to the Council from Mr. R. B. Herbert, Deputy General Manager of the Company is a cable message received from London accepting the various major terms laid down by the Council in preceding negotiations. This abbreviated message is as follows:

HEALTH CIRCULAR WARNS AGAINST SUMMER MALADY

Official Information Issued Pointing Out Safeguards To Be Followed

Emphatic warning against the malady that comes to Shanghai with the advent of hot weather and information telling the foreign resident how best to safeguard himself against it are being issued by the health authorities in the form of a published circular headed, "Cholernic Diarrhoea." Here is what the warning says:

EAT AND DRINK

Nothing that has not been recently cooked, boiled or otherwise sterilised.

DO NOT CONSUME

1. Fruit, vegetables, salads, melons, etc., which have not been cooked or otherwise sterilised.
2. Food on which flies have settled.
3. Milk or cream which has not been boiled or sterilised.
4. Ice-cream unless made from boiled materials.
5. Water which has not been boiled or filtered through a germ-proof filter, the candle of which should be boiled once a week regularly.
6. Aerated water or other drinks unless of the best quality.

RICE DROPS 40 CENTS; FURTHER FALL EXPECTED

Local Organisations To Meet Tomorrow To Combat Profiteering

While rice made a sudden drop of 40 cents yesterday, the local Foodstuff Maintenance Association has called a general meeting of local organisations to combat profiteering tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Han Hua Chun Restaurant, Chekiang Road. The settlement police has been requested to send representatives to the meeting.

Subjects on the agenda are to fix the number of piculs of rice to be sold at a regulated cheap rate, to devise means of keeping a large stock in Shanghai all the time, to decide on the grade of rice to be offered for cheap sale, to ascertain the number of godowns where rice is stored, to discover the source of transportation and to find other substitutes for rice.

Yesterday's drop marked the first definite break in the constantly ascending scale of high prices that has been prevailing in the local market.

Best grades fell 40 cents to $14.40 per picul and inferior grades fell 20 cents to $12.40 per picul in sharp contrast to the raises reported the day previous. The break in price came just as Chinese authorities were beginning corrective measures to stop the high cost of living by opening cost price sales depots, issuing proclamations against profiteering and hoarding and planning to stop its exportation from Shanghai to other ports.

The sharp decrease in price is said to result from the extremely warm weather of the past few days, following the rainy spell. During the rain interior merchants were fearful of shipping their rice in open boats to the Shanghai market because of the spoiling risk and also because of the high water in the creeks which made navigation risky. The rain, at the same time, however, insured a good crop because it fell shortly after the crop was planted and the immediate warm weather has consequently saved the day for the thousands facing reduced rations.

TWO WHO TRIED SUICIDE ARE ON WAY TO RECOVERY

Michael Sadovnikoff, Russian Slayer, And George Clayton Are Getting Well

Michael Sadovnikoff, who fired a bullet through his brain after killing Mrs. Anna Avierkieva in a Broadway millinery shop, and George B. Clayton former Customs employe who also tried to kill himself and fired a bullet entirely through his body, are both alive at the Shanghai General Hospital and the belief was held last night that both would recover from their wounds.

The cases of the two wounded men are in no way related as Sadovnikoff, who according to report once served under Admiral Kolchak, killed Mrs. Avierkieva because he loved her and because she rejected him. Clayton shot himself while riding in a motor car early in the morning on Nanking Road and the motive that prompted his action have not yet been disclosed.

According to views of the police Sadovnikoff will be called to answer a charge of murder in the Mixed Court, as Russia has no accredited consular representative here. Clayton, who is an American, will be required to answer a charge of attempting suicide in the American courts here when he recovers. The offense is punishable under American federal statutes.

CORK REPUPLIC IS NEW RUMOR HEARD IN LONDON

Motor Car Taking National Troops To Letterkenn Is Ambushed

(Reuter's Service)

London, July 12.—An unconfirmed report states that a republic has been proclaimed in Cork with which place communications are interrupted. Irregulars at Drumkeen last night ambushed a motor-car conveying National troops to Letterkenn, of whom two were wounded, one killed and one missing.

London, July 11.—The list of casualties in the recent fighting in Dublin, issued by the Irish Army headquarters, shows that 19 National Army soldiers were killed and 111 wounded. It is estimated that 65 civilians were killed and 281 wounded.

The city has been quiet since the fall of the Sackville street stronghold except for occasional night sniping in the suburbs.

The tranquility was broken last night by two ambushes of military lorries, one near Stephen's Green and the other on the Stillorgan road. The assailants were driven off and escaped.

Warfare in the country districts is becoming of an increasingly guerilla character. The irregulars are evacuating their positions before they are attacked and are frequently burning buildings in the line of their retreat.

The condition of prisoners taken indicates that the irregulars are dispirited and poorly armed and supplied.

Robert Barton, De Valera's Minister of Defence, and MacDonagh, a member of the Dail Eireann, with a number of other prisoners have escaped from Portobello Barracks.

Another big opium haul was made by the Central Police yesterday when they captured a consignment under transport through the Settlement with its destination believed to be the Shanghai-Nanking Railway Station. A constable on duty near the border of the French Concession was the captor. He became suspicious of a wheelbarrow, on which were four large portmanteaux, and took the cargo and coolie to the station. When the portmanteaux were opened, it was found that they contained opium. The coolie said that he had been ordered to take the bags to the railway station by two foreigners. The police are investigating.

J. H. Hodgkiss, second officer of the S. S. Hangchow, was fined $5 by Magistrate G. W. King in the British Police Court yesterday following a disturbance at Whangpoo and Aster Roads Tuesday night. The police charged that Hodgkins had employed a ricsha and refused to pay the coolie and had then struck an Indian constable in the chest. Hodgkiss claimed that he had run out of money and had asked the coolie to accompany him to a compradore's shop but that the latter failed to understand him. He denied striking the constable. The police testimony charged him with being drunk.

HOW TO "GROW" A NEW COMPLEXION

These are the days of "hustling." In a week we see and do more than our grandmothers did in a year. We are gradually turning nature to be our servant; we use her great forces against herself. We have conquered sea and sky, now our doctors are fighting not only disease, but old age. There is talk of rejuvenating human beings by the injection of animal glands, but as yet, only the few can avail themselves of the treatment.

There is, however, one secret of perpetual youth that is in the reach of everyone. Scientists now realise that the only way of keeping the skin young and fresh is to examine Nature's methods and to find some way of imitating her.

SCIENTIFIC BEAUTY.

In order to explain the new method of keeping the complexion perpetually youthful, one must understand something of the nature of the skin. A baby's skin is always clear and smooth because the outer layer is always invisibly peeling off, and new layers are forming just as fast underneath, so that the exposed skin is always fresh, unwrinkled and "new."

For the first few years of our lives, this peeling is a purely natural process, but as we grow older, we gradually lose the power of throwing off our old soiled outer skins, so that our complexions become lined and yellow, and the new skin has no chance to show itself.

A few years ago, a scientific chemist realised that a little-known substance called mercolised wax, was exactly what was needed to "keep nature up to the mark." It appears that this substance, which is now universally obtainable, gently and painlessly assists nature in throwing off the soiled outer cuticle. The skin is thus perpetually renewed, and a clear youthful complexion can be preserved to any age. (Advt.)

Marine Changes

The following changes in the merchant marine service took place during the week:

Indo-China Steam Navigation Company—Mr. H. M. Rogers appointed second mate of the Tuckwo; from sick leave, Mr. I. S. Holmes, to chief engineer of the Tungshing; chief engineer of the Tungshing, Mr. M. Turner, placed on reserve.

Upward Tendency In Cotton Prices Checked

(Reuter's Service)

New York, June 16.—With a change for the better in weather conditions this week has come a check to the upward tendency of the cotton market, but less of a decline than many traders had looked for under the circumstances. In part this had been due to the fact that trade interests have purchased freely on every setback.

It is evident from the reports at hand that mill interests are very much worried about their future supplies. They realise that no matter how the weather turns out, the boll weevil is likely to be more destructive this season than usual, and perhaps more so than ever before. For this reason, they can see no possibility of a crop sufficiently large to supply the world's needs except at considerably higher prices, and, by purchasing futures, are protecting themselves against the possibility of scant supplies later on.

A Washington trade authority points out that a crop of 11,500,000 would probably be 1,500,000 less than the world's demand at 18-20 cents per pound. One of ten million bales would be three millions less than the world's needs; and a crop of less than 9,000,000 bales, he declares, would lead to a real cotton famine. Some investigators of crop conditions at first hand are convinced that with weather after this date as favorable as occurred in 1914, when more than 16,000,000 bales were grown, the crop could now scarcely reach 11,500,000 bales.

SMALLER CROP

They believe that with average weather a crop less than 10,000,000 bales is likely, so that looking at the situation from almost any angle, it seems unlikely that a crop large enough to go around can be expected this season. Another influence which is coming more and more into prominence as the season progresses and one which bids fair to assume a leading part in the crop news of the future is the boll weevil. Many private despatches this week have drawn attention to the activity of this pest in the southwestern part of Texas, and the fears of mill people referred to above would seem to be well grounded.

This, bulls declare, is one reason why the market has displayed such stubbornness during the week to selling operations. There appears to be little doubt but that the market throughout the summer will be exceptionally sensitive to crop and weather news, and it will require a considerable period of good weather to establish confidence in even a fair crop. The most conservative people believe that even under the best of circumstances it will be barely large enough to meet requirements.

What the price would be under such circumstances is much disputed, but, again, the conservative element in the trade think it could be absorbed at around 25 cents without checking consumption materially. Regarding the boll weevil, the Government has issued an interesting pamphlet in which the statement is made that the cotton plant produces many more squares than it can carry to maturity is bolls, and that under normal conditions about 60 per cent of this fruit is shed.

EXTRA STOCKS LOW

Up to a certain point therefore, the report says weevil puncturing of fruit does not reduce the cotton crop, because large numbers of forms would be shed anyhow.

A trade paper calls attention to the fact that stocks of extra staple cotton throughout the southern half of the Mississippi delta are reported to be very low. The co-operative association at Greenwood, Miss., which less than three months ago had a stock of more than 100,000 bales of extra staple cotton, is now said to have only 4,000 bales. The stock of extra staple at New Orleans is reported to be only about 10,000 bales.

Memphis reports an excellent demand from Eastern spinners, and a strong call for well-bodied cotton from Liverpool. Southern mills are in the market in a modest way, but are apparently better supplied with cotton than their competitors. It is estimated that approximately one-half of all the unsold cotton in Memphis is full 1⅛ or longer and that possibly two-thirds of this is strict low middling and better in grade.

A prominent local cotton house thus sums up the situation in cotton:—"There can be no reasonable doubt that the supply situation is critical. The mill stocks are moderate to small. Retailers and handlers of manufactured cotton goods have, for some time, been cutting their stocks until their supplies are nearly depleted. Consumers have deferred their buying until it can now be said that at no time within the past fifty years has the cotton trade witnessed such conditions. The prospect at the moment is that the price for American cotton must go to a point which will automatically and substantially curtail consumption."

British Court

Another adjournment until tomorrow was taken yesterday in the case of Mr. Judah I. Ezra in the British Police Court. Mr. Ezra is charged with negligent driving as a result of a motor car accident on Bubbling Well Road on June 20 in which Miss K. V. Shekury was injured.

Police Sergeant A. O'Dwyer of the Bubbling Well Station testified regarding the damage done the ricsha in which Miss Shekury was riding.

A Chinese apprentice in a tailor shop at 1848 Bubbling Well Road testified regarding the accident. He said that the motor car, driven by Mr. Ezra, was traveling West in the center of the road and that it swerved to the North side where the collision occurred. He was not sure he had heard a horn. There was no traffic on the South side of the road.

Senator's Daughter Played Marriage Joke

MISS Elizabeth Dana Wells, daughter of State Senator Wellington Wells, of Massachusetts, took out a marriage license and announced her engagement to William F. Fitzgerald, Jr., son of a prominent Boston broker. She did this at an engagement party to win a bet from a friend to whom he had jokingly said she was to be married. Miss Wells had no serious thought of marriage and young Fitzgerald, a college student, didn't even know anything about the affair.

Singapore Rubber Auction

Singapore, June 28, 1922

The past week has been dull and featureless. This morning, however, cables from London came in reporting a rising market, owing to the majority of Dutch Rubber Growers being in favor of restrictions. Conflicting prices from 7⅞d. to 8¼d. are quoted from yesterday's market in London, while New York's closing-price is given at 15½ cents.

We have to report a firm market with an all-round good demand at this week's auction.

All values, following suit with the prices in the outside market, show an advance of 2 to 2½ cents on the week.

The quantity offered for sale was 706 tons, and the 522 tons sold were quickly disposed of.

Awarded Standard Ribbed Smoked Sheet reached 27½ cents, which is 2½ cents up.

Sheet equal to Standard shows a similar advance, and these grades were easy of sale.

Off Quality lots found ready buyers.

Awarded Standard 1st Latex Crepe and Crepe equal to Standard obtained bids of 28 cents only in the morning, but prices advanced as the sale progressed.

Off Color Latex parcels advanced round about 1½ cents.

Fine Brown, Dark and Barky Crepes sold cut quickly at prices on an average 2 cents up.

CRICKETERS MAY GO TO HANKOW AND HONGKONG

Shanghai cricket teams will probably make trips to Hankow and Hongkong this year, the local men going up the Yangtsze in September and making the journey to Hongkong at the end of October.

Hankow cricket is improving, according to the Central China Post, and for the first time in five years, the Shanghai team will be faced by a really strong eleven, the newspaper says. Shanghai has made four trips to Hankow and each time has brought home the bacon.

The Shanghai team which trimmed Hongkong here not so long ago should repeat in the Southern city in October if the same men who composed the victorious interport eleven are able to make the trip. Hongkong won the last interport match held in Hongkong but lost when they came to Shanghai.

letter follows regarding points such as reinstatement charges in connection with road widening not affecting extensions in appendix B safety doors North Szechuen Road track etcetera send a copy of this cable to Council and cable Council's reply so that contracts may be placed stop."

Replying on behalf of the Council in connection with the foregoing cable Mr. N. O. Liddell, Secretary and Commissioner-General says as follows:

"I am directed to inform you that the Council is pleased to note that an agreement has now been reached on the more important points, but, since it appears, from the terms of the telegram above referred to, that such agreement, in so far as it refers to railless extensions, is limited by your company to the extensions comprised in Appendix B to Mr. J. B. Hamilton's report to the Council published on page 220a of the Council's Annual Report for 1921, and since the extensions included in Appendix C while not so urgent as those included in Appendix B are nevertheless scarcely less important, I am directed to inform you that the Council cannot, under any circumstances, recede from the position taken in the correspondence in this connexion published in the Municipal Gazette of May 11, concluding with my letter to you of May 6, in which it was stated.

"I am directed to inform you that the Council is not prepared under any circumstances to reopen discussion of what extensions are to be carried out by your company, or of the time within which they are to be completed. Members have already given much time and attention to these matters, and their decisions thereon, as already communicated to you, are regarded as of the very essence of the terms upon which the company's program of extensions has been approved.

"I am to add that the Council therefore requires a definite assurance at an early date that your company is prepared to undertake and carry out the whole of the railless extensions comprised in Appendices B and C. above referred to, within the stipulated period of time."

Shanghai Easily Defeats Gunboat Team, Score 9-4

BY WESTA

A disgraceful scene was witnessed yesterday afternoon in that part of the Public Recreation grounds set aside for baseball games. It seems that a number of sailors from the Gunboat Isabel had gone to this open space to hunt for their land legs, the Isabel having arrived in port only recently from a long cruise on the Yangtsze.

The sailors, naturally, were somewhat awkward and gawky in their movements, for which they were not in the least to blame, their long confinement to the rolling and pitching decks of the warship having displaced their centers of gravity, to use a naval term. In other words their equilibriums were all out of kilter, and they simply were trying in a wholly innocent and inoffensive manner to get back on an even keel.

While thus engaged a notorious outfit of thick skinned rowdies who frequently have terrorised that end of town, and who are known to the Constable as Hoppy's gang happened along, and these ruffians, under the direction of their unregenerate leader, and each armed with a big stick, set upon the sailor boys and beat them up unmercifully. The sailors, although at great disadvantage, fought back as best they could, each man proving true to the ancient traditions of that noble service which gave to history such lofty examples of valor and patriotism as Commodore Patrick Henry Ford, whose last words, "Don't get off the boat, Griddlecake, we are only beginning to eat," will go thundering down through the ages.

SAILORS MALTREATED

Despite their valiant efforts to defend themselves, however, the victims of this cruel and unwarranted attack were very severely mauled and it is now feared that the navy boys will gather reinforcements and seek revenge, in which event we may expect a veritable reign of terror in this community, as Hoppy's gang is known to be made up of rough characters who on more than one occasion have shown that their reputations for mayhem and skulduggery are only too well deserved. At any rate the citizenry is very apprehensive and the Constable has issued emergency muskets and an extra supply of dry powder to his deputies.

The score was nine to four in our favor.

The score wouldn't have been nine to four in our favor if the Isabels had maintained the lick at which they started off, or if Doc Swann, who was wielding the scalpel for Hoppy's gang hadn't stopped in the middle of his operation to put in the few stitches necessary to staunch the flow of basehits that rapidly was sapping the patient's vitality. "If," however, is a great argument but a poor ball player.

The Isabels, forgetting for a moment that they were only gunboaters, started off like a Grand Fleet, shoving two counters over almost before Doc Swann had taken his wrenches and things out of the antiseptic cabinet, and while the nurses were still out in the linen room boasting about their latest flirtations.

DOC TO THE RESCUE

Seeing how things were going Doc hastily flopped the patient on the operating table and jammed the old chloroform cone over his nose, not even waiting for a nurse to hold his tongue or count his pulse beats. This drastic action on the part of Sawbones quickly put an end to the Isabellian rampage. The sailors got one more run in the third and another in the seventh, both being gifts, more or less.

Having nothing else to do at yesterday's contest, the estimable Mr. Hirsh, champion box score compiler of the Far East and way stations having agreed to give us a carbon copy of his statistics, we wrote out a sort of running account of the battle, ably helped at critical points by Artie Barrett and Doc Irons, assistant war correspondents. Here it is:

First inning (Isabel) Mason fanned. Hawley hit through Bills, and stole. Packer hit to right, scoring Mason. Stephenson popped to Bills, who pegged over Hoppy's head. Packer going to second. Wall cracked out a double, scoring Packer. Nichols whiffed.

First inning (Shanghai) Mal safe on Mason's foozle of his pop-up. Holliday bunted into McLaughlin's hands. Mal, who had started to steal, being doubled at first. Hoppy lined to Hawley.

Second inning (Isabel) Powers swung at three. Gunderson popped to The Thatch. McLaughlin took three healthies.

Second inning (Shanghai) Stone flew out to Nichols. The Thatch popped to Stephenson. Bills busted one to right for three bases, and scored on Insurance Smith's wham to center. The catcher stole second. Swann caught one in the slats and ambled. Stephenson tossed out Maloney.

TWO RAW STEALS

Third Inning (Isabel) Mason went to first when the third strike got away from Smith, and immediately stole. Hawley hit past Mal, Mason being held at third. Hawley stole unmolested. Packer fanned. Stephenson was thrown out by Thatch, Hawley scoring. The Thatch tossed out Wall.

Third inning (Shanghai) Holliday hit to left and went to second when the ball eluded Nichols. Scott flew out to Packer, Walter going to third after the gobble. Hoppy cracked one through Mason, scoring Walter, the Skipper going to second on the throw-in. Stone hit to left, scoring the ball wether. Thatch hit over short, Stone legging to second. Bills slammed a two base hit through short, scoring both. Smith hit through short, Bills counting. Smith was out trying to make second on the throw-in. Mason tossed out the Sawbones.

Fourth inning (Isabel) Stone grabbed Wall's fly. Smith tossed out Nichols. Mal threw out Powers.

Fourth inning (Shanghai) Nichols backed up against the golf club house for Mal's fly. Holliday walked. Mason tossed out Scotty, Walter going to second. Hoppy hit through second, scoring Walter and went to third when McLaughlin booted the throw-in. Stone bounced one off Mason's shins, Hoppy scoring. McLaughlin threw The Thatch out at first.

OUT IN ORDER

Fifth inning (Isabel) McLaughlin whiffed. Mason was tossed out by Sawbones. Hawley flew out to Holliday.

Fifth inning (Shanghai) Bills deadheaded to first and was out stealing. Stephenson knocked down Smith's sizzling drive and got his man at first, the best play of the day. Sawbones whiffed.

Sixth inning (Isabel) Packer tossed out by the pitcher. Stephenson whiffed. Wall busted one over second. Nichols ditto to right, Wall going to third. Nichols stole. Bills tossed out Powers.

Sixth inning (Shanghai) Mal safe on a drive at Stephenson. Thatch, running for him, stole. Holliday hit to left, and stole. The Thatch scored on Scotty's long sacrifice fly to right. Hoppy hit to center and Holliday was doubled at second, although he could have scrambled back if he had tried a little harder.

Seventh inning (Isabel) Gunderson walked and stole. McLaughlin out on Doc Hudson's failing eyesight. Smith grabbed Mason's high foul. Hawley went to second when Bills tossed his grounder a mile over Hoppy's head, Gunderson scoring. Hawley went to sleep and Baseball Today!

There will be a baseball game at the racetrack this afternoon between the Isabel's team and a nine picked from the two mine layer teams. The game will start at 4:30 o'clock. On Saturday and Sunday Shanghai will play an "all fleet" team composed of players from the three navy outfits now in port.

'Natives' Win, 4-0, In Water Polo At Rowing Club Sports

Big Crowd Rewarded With Excellent Racing

A big crowd turned up last night to witness the Rowing Club's swimming sports at the bath house on Soochow Road and were rewarded by home excellent racing. The big event was the water polo match between Born In Shanghai versus the Rest of the Club. The natives won comfortably by 4 goals to nil, the scorers being J. B. Brown (2), Brodie and A. P. Goldman (1 each).

Mr. T. W. Mitchell refereed.

Mr. B. Wallin, the Swedish international, was present at the game but did not play. Had he done so the score would probably have been different. Berthet and A. K. Brown played for the Club to make the sides more evenly matched, though they are both Jiangdahs.

The following are the results:

Breast Stroke, 1 length h'cap

Heat 1—J. Huxley, 1 sec., 1; R. A. Berthet, scr., 2; L. Smith, 1 sec., 3; J. Krygsman, scr., 0; R. L. Evans, 3 secs., 0; A. Martin, 1 sec., 0. Time: 27 3-5s.

Heat 2—L. Goldman, scr., 1; G. A. Johnston, 1 sec., 2; R. Tatam, 1 sec., 3; F. H. Johnston, 1 sec., 0; V. H. Watton, 1 sec., 0. Time: 27 1-5s.

One Length any stroke, final heat (h'cap). R. L. Evans, 6 secs., 1; R. Tatam, 2 secs, 2; L. Goldman scr., 3 A. P. Goldman, scr., 0. Time 20 3-5s.

Team Race: Road Side (J. McCarthy, A. Martin, R. L. Evans, G. Johnston, R. Tatam, J. E. Henry, L. Goldman and A. P. Goldman) won from Creek Side (C. Neprud, J. Huxley, J. Krygsman, F. Johnston, Lawrie Smith, A. Berthet, J. B. Brown and A. E. Brodie), average time for each man over the length being 20 3-5 secs.

Diving running headers from spring board—L. Goldman 1, A. P. Goldman 2, and E. A. Brodie 3.

Twelve competed in all.

The Water Polo teams were:—Jiangdahs: L. Goldman; J. E. Henry and F. Henry; Lawrie Smith; J. B. Brown, E. A. Brodie and A. P. Goldman.

Rowing Club: J. Huxley; J. Krygsman and R. A. Berthet; R. W. MacCabe: Martin, R. Tatam and A. K. Brown.

Baseball Notes

BY WESTA

A handsome, honest gentleman (name and address unknown) picked up a pearl and diamond bar pin in the grandstand after the game yesterday, and turned it over to The China Press representative—a risky proceeding at this stage of the month. Owner may have same by calling at The China Press office. Ask for Mr. Figueiredo.

Stephenson's stop of Smith's smash in the sixth was a nice bit of work on the sailor third backer's part. The ball was to his left and traveling faster than the contents of the pay envelop on No. 1 day.

Doc Hudson, base umping, called a number of close ones to the general satisfaction of everybody concerned, with the exception of McLaughlin at first in the seventh. To the stands the pitcher appeared to beat the ball. However, Doc may have thought the runner was a tooth, and it didn't make any difference, anyway.

Manager Hoiby Gallop made arrangements yesterday for Saturday and Sunday games with a sailor team picked from the best of the three navy teams now in port. Today the Isabel will play a team picked from the mine layer nines, and from this field it is hoped to get together a strong combination for the week end battles.

Maloney was at third, chirping like a squirrel at a hazlenut banquet. If Mal's jamp would get back to normalcy and the old ankle didn't have to be nursed the Shanghai outfit would be strong enough to whip Wu Pei-fu's army. The ol' timer exuded pep long after everybody out there, players and spectators, had passed out from the heat.

The Isabel team lacks the class of the sailor outfits that have been in our midst recently, but they have a good representation, at that, considering the small crew they have to choose from. The boys gave the best they had, too, even when they were hopelessly in the ruck. That's the old spirit.

The Isabels abandoned the dugout provided for visiting teams, and made their headquarters over on the shady side of the grandstand. They were wise, as the afternoon sun makes an oven out of that dugout.

Nichols, in left for the sailors, made a couple of good grabs, taking one from Maloney that was headed for the golf club house.

The locals certainly fattened their batting averages. It was little short of rude the way they crowded up to the plate to grab off hits for themselves. Their chops were fairly dripping after it was all over.

The phrase "pegged over Hoppy's head" is appearing too often in accounts of the games. The infielders need throwing practice. Hoppy is a good reacher but if he had been standing on the back of Jumbo, the late Mr. Barnum's well known elephant, he couldn't have reached some of the pegs that whizzed over him yesterday.

Scotty was the sacrificing kid yesterday. He wasn't credited with a hit, but then he was only up once, officially, so his average didn't shrink much.

Stubborn Case of Boils & Pimples

"Can honestly say I am quite cured"

Our portrait is of Mr. W. BRIDAL, 27, Strand Street, Aberaman, Mountain Ash, South Wales, Great Britain, who writes:

"It gives me great pleasure in telling you about the remarkable cure I found in Clarke's Blood Mixture for boils and pimples. After having suffered from time to time from both, and trying all kinds of so-called remedies, and being under doctor's treatment, I thought of Clarke's Blood Mixture, having tried it years ago with success for a similar complaint. After taking one bottle it seemed to drive them out, and after the second bottle I found a decided improvement, and continuing with your Mixture I can honestly say I am quite cured."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. WILLIAM S. HART

"WAGON TRACKS"

There are battles with Indians, a struggle with gamblers a revenge motive, and love and adventure galore. Withal it is an accurate historical record of a period of American life that is romantic to the last degree—that period when men and women of every walk of life trekked to the sunset across the wild lands, peopled by hostile Indians herds of buffalo and threatened with every possible danger.

Mountain and plain and his horses, and long wagon trains crawling over the trail Such had been his life until one day they brought his brother home—murdered!

After that he was Hamilton the Avenger. But when at last he found his man, he found the brother of a woman he loved.

Then a strange ordeal of the desert and a roving Indian band, seeking—and taking—an eye for an eye.

The end of the trail? You would never guess. Find it with William S. Hart in this powerful romance of human souls.

"THE LITTLE CLOWN"

"LOVE ME, LOVE MY LITTLE SWEETHEART"

That's what Dick told his parents when they came to beg him to give up this wild circus life and come back to his own world of wealth, aristocracy, good breeding and leisure. Certainly no circus performer would do for a daughter-in-law!

Poor little Pat! She was used to hurdles but she never had known that there were such things in the world as social barriers.

In the circus everybody was friends with everybody else. and nothing mattered but putting your act over. Could she ever win the approval of these cold, hostile people of Dick's?

"Homespun Folks"

An All Star Cast with Lloyd Hughes

A MOTHER STORY THAT HITS THE GREATEST TARGET IN ALL THE WORLD—THE HUMAN HEART.

A real native American story with a real sweet, wonderful mother in it. There's a typical American farm, a stern, hard old father—tears and pathos—a delightful love story—action and excitement—big scenes. You'll go away with a memory of the old home town burned into your memory.

"Homespun Folks"

is not a cocktail drama. It has romance and tenderness; it has pathos and robust comedy; it has tenseness and the rush of melodramatic action—but it never loses that deft, magnetic, masterful something that makes it a pastoral epic.

Shanghai Through The Eyes Of A Chinese Girl

Note: A short time ago a group of Chinese young women were brought to Shanghai from Huchow for a visit, with a view to showing them some of the modern ways of the world. One of the girls was so impressed that she wrote the following. One thought that emerges from a perusal of it, is the necessity for more of these excursions.

THOSE who have been reading the Teachers' College Record no doubt saw in a recent number an article on "The Excursion as a Means of Education," and would be interested in knowing of an excursion recently made here in Shanghai. Coming as the class did from a small inland city, they found much that was new and strange to see during their ten days in this large port.

Six hundred tired women pouring out from a large factory; a roomful of young girls working at swiftly moving machines; an office with Chinese and foreign young women busy at typewriters and adding machines; a completely equipped gymnasium; a college library and museum; an ocean liner; the large, bustling public market; the city fire department; the work of the Board of Health and Public Sanitation Commission and many other sights common here but unfamiliar to these young women were all equally new and impressive to them.

What a contrast they found between the large Chinese and foreign stores and the dingy shops on the narrow streets of their home town! What thrills there were in their first tram and auto rides! What a difference there is between reading about the International Congress of Working Women held in far away Geneva where the problems of women in industry were discussed, and talking with China's representative at that Congress who could tell first hand of what she had seen in other countries and how these problems are being solved.

How much more one can learn from charts on the care of the teeth and models as explained by the dentist in his modern well-equipped office, than from reading page after page in a dry physiology textbook, especially when the student has never seen such an office and equipment! These are just samples of what this excursion meant to us. We enjoyed every minute of our ten days in Shanghai and were fearful lest something might be missed.

Among the institutions and organizations visited were the following: a large cotton mill, the Commercial Press works, the French Industrial School and Orphanage at Siccawei, the Benevolent Industrial School, the School for Blind, the Door of Hope, Children's Refuge at Kiangwan, Ricksha Mission, Yangtszepoo Social Center, Miss Dora Yu's Bible School, The Young Women's Christian Association, National School of Hygiene and Physical Education of the Y.W.C.A., Ningpo Association, Cantonese School, Japanese Public School, McTyeire, Nan Yang College, Shanghai College, Christian Literature Society, Council of Health, the Shanghai Sanatorium, Margaret Williamson Hospital and Nurse's Training School.

Their experiences will furnish material for classroom discussions, for, in the Home Economics courses and Social Service classes, they have been studying abstract theories and general principles. Now, they have seen and studied some of the concrete instances of and practical results of the application of the things they have been discussing theoretically. The excursion will supply subject matter for many of the letters to be written in the class in letter writing, as well as aid in the interpretation of various news items to be discussed in current events class. Reports are to be given not only to other members in their school but also in other schools in their city.

One evidence that the class believes in using immediately the knowledge gained, even if painful, is the fact that after considering the information given by the dentist, they spent their last forenoon in having necessary dental work done, thus using the first opportunity which has ever been theirs to have their teeth treated by an experienced and modern dentist, as their town boasts of no dentist.

They returned to the school where they are seniors, the Woman's School of Huchow, eager to share their new vision of the "New Woman of China" and her responsibility at this critical period in China's political, social, and industrial life.

This is just another proof of the fact that many of the Mission Schools are at the very front in applying the theories and methods discussed in educational circles everywhere. The school referred to is the School of Mothercraft which was mentioned some months ago in THE CHINA PRESS as one of the institutions helping to solve and meet the new problems connected with the position of women in China.

Correspondence

TIGHT LACING

Editor: THE CHINA PRESS

Sir:—I have been expecting some lady will answer your question: "Oh, Ladies, Is It True?"

From your article it would seem that the women in America have gone too far in the "no-corset fad," so much so that the length of feminine waist line has increased considerably. I infer that this is a jocular remark.

More in China than in any other country in the world, today, with the exception, perhaps, of Japan, tight lacing has done injuries to humanity. Not being a physician, I cannot describe in detail the harm that this fashion does. Inadvertently I bought a few under-shirts that are a bit too small for me. I felt so uneasy and burdensome to have them on that it made me think how intolerable it is for the woman to tie her waist so tightly almost all her life long. While it may not be feasible to dispense with the corsets altogether, still they should not be worn TOO TIGHTLY. Let the woman free herself from this curse. Human weakness makes the task of reform difficult, but it is not impossible. Yours very truly,

A Woman's Privilege

Says a New York exchange: A woman's right to change her mind rests upon foundations immemorial and unquestioned. Man's intelligence dates from the day when he first recognised the futility of opposing it, and shook his head sadly, instead of reaching for his stone hatchet.

Now comes Justice Hitz of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to sustain in court woman's privilege not to tell her age.

Mrs. Charlotte McDonald, widow of James McDonald of the Standard Oil Company, whose engagement to Lord Huntley, 74 years old, was recently announced, appeared before Justice Hitz in a suit against her stepson. In reply to a customary question Mrs. McDonald, when sworn as a witness, answered "I am more than 18." The court held her answer to be sufficient.

And it was. A woman's answer to that question always is sufficient, for the adage "a man is as old as he feels, a woman as old as she looks" stands the test completely for the better half of its application. The first half should be made to read "A man is as old as he acts." So far as feeling goes, he may be 90 one day and 18 the next.

What Science Is Doing To Combat The Waste Of Premature Death

BY DR. E. E. TUCKER

Occasionally a scientific man takes a holiday from his scientific skepticism, kisses good-by to his reputation as a conservative thinker, locks up his intellectual Puritanism and ventures on prophecy. Men cannot altogether forego their youth even when they attain that inscrutable post-maturity, that unalloyed age, that unqualified "Back to Methusalah" intellectuality known as scientific attainments, which youthfulness breaks out in prophesying, among other things. Prophesying was one of the earliest forms of learning—and is still the most youthful.

The whole face of medical thought has been changed in the past decade by this new study of endocrinology, and I prophesied that more than ten years ago. Again I venture on prophecy, and say that not only the face of medical thought alone but the whole constitution of society, the whole nature of thought will be changed by the future development of this same study and the changes that are even now coming in the science of osteopathy, and by other things as well, no doubt; but we can follow only one or two lines at a time, and shall follow these two lines—endocrinology and osteopathy.

Wonderful as is this present age of mechanical development, invention, economic improvement, &c., it is as nothing to the age that is to follow it. Man is in this age waking up to his world. He is like a lad of ten who eagerly explores the qualities of sticks and stones and sunlight and frogs and other things in this kingdom that he is soon to inherit. The race of man is in that phase of his development—scarcely in his teens as yet; indeed, in one sense, hardly advanced beyond the early embryonic stages, for even the fundamental mechanisms of transportation have not been perfected, the fundamental unifying arteries of life.

Before this age is past man will have perfected invention to the point where there will be power enough and to spare for every conceivable purpose, so that production will cost little more than the education necessary to maintain it and to handle its machinery. Economics will have been perfected to the point where money will be so plentiful that it will quite cease to be a problem, much less a standard of values and a measure of success, as it is now. Wealth will no longer be stated in terms of money, but more likely in terms of consciousness in some form, education, or what we now term spirit. Few will be willing to forego the development and expansion of their consciousness for the sake of the mere mechanical equivalents, money and money power.

The present age of mechanical interest, technical education, mechanical psychology and mechanical charity will not pass through being discounted, controll d and eliminated as piracy has been elfminated, but by being fulfilled to the utmost. There will thus be endowments for everything worthy of endowment as well as plenty of men of the best possible mentality and equipment ready and eager to take up any new work if its worthiness is shown. But its worthiness will be measured not by economic standards. The world will have passed that phase; it will have advanced to a quality of thought and of consciousness superior to thought inconceivable to us now.

The two lines that we are following now are endocrinology and osteopathy. They will help very much to bring about these results, both directly and indirectly. In the first place they will help in the elimination of waste. What are the greatest wastes of today? They are wastes of illness and premature death, wastes of criminality, wastes of inefficiency, wastes of false education. These, you observe, are not only economic wastes, they are human wastes. It is just because they are human wastes that they are economic wastes. And it is also just because they are human wastes that they must wait on the sciences of human efficiency to be eliminated. In each case osteopathy and endocrinology will play a major role in the correction. Disease will be prevented, not cured, and it will be prevented not by sanitation alone but by attention to the, at present, all but neglected matter of the efficiency of the human organism.

As to efficiency in sports and in industry and in the more subtle matters of mental training and consciousness we do not begin to know what the word means yet. Indeed, the word itself is comparatively new so far as the popular vocabulary is concerned. Man has barely begun to discover his body and himself. As to the waste of criminality and criminal administration, it is even now just dawning on our consciousness that that is a matter of health and vital motivation and education rather than a matter requiring punitive handling, and already our prisons are showing a decided tendency to the transformation that must inevitably take place into sanitaria and educational institutions.

And there is another form of waste in the elimination of which the sciences of the body are destined to take a large place, and that is the waste of civic experiment. It is not known to many that the living body itself presents an almost perfect model of the form of economic communal organisaion such as is best fitted to survive in the mechanical environment of the earth and to give the best results in consciousness, but such is the fact nevertheless. And the discovery of this fact and its general use will save civilisation many an age of warfare and internal friction. Our blind unguided experimental evolution is leading us closer to this model with every decade.

The waste of premature death will have a new meaning when the expectancy of life has been more or less doubled—and not the expectancy of life alone, but the tenure of faculty and aggressive vigor. There are many things in Shaw's "Back to Methusalah" with which the biologist will sympathise, but G. B. S. has perhaps not appreciated the fact that man already outlives his teeth and eyes by a score of years, and the longer he lives the more organs will he tend to outlive; that if his expectancy of life based on external factors is prolonged indefinitely there still remains the problem of the flexibility of his internal mechanism. But that this problem will be mastered there need be little doubt.

All this and more will come about through man's discovery of his body. Man will be compelled to make that discovery. The burden of his civilisation will compel him to do so. Already it has become a Frankenstein monster to the bodies of civilised man. Every occupation has its typical warping effect, its characteristic deformity or disease. Housemaid's knee has now a whole brood of blood brothers. We all know of the golfer's knee, the chauffeur's back and the policeman's foot. To this osteopathy adds the schoolboy's spine, probably the most devastating of all of the deformities of civilisation. Young boys and girls were not intended to spend long hours immovable on hard benches and with eyes following print with all of the continuousness of a pendulum.

In order to get the picture, think first, if you please, of the animal kingdom from which we inherit the mechanisms of our bodies. Animals avoid violent contact with the environment, rarely touching anything except with the feet and jaws, except in the rare occasions of their fights, when the one that is smaller or weaker and therefore subject to the effects of the violent contacts as a rule does not survive them. Think, then, of man, who not only does not avoid violent contact with his environment but courts it, makes sport of it, harnesses the forces of nature, concentrates them, whips them up to the highest fury and then makes his body the buffer for their contendings. Man drives himself violently against his environment, not to the point of actual pain; no, but far beyond that to the actual limit of his strength to so drive. His adventurous intellect and curiosity, not to mention his greed, make grist of his body. The grinding point of contact between his purposes and the inertia of nature is his physical mechanism.

At that grinding point stands the science of osteopathy. Civilisation must discover the body. For one reason the limits to its possibilities in one way are the limits of the physical machinery of life, and consequently are the limits to which the science of osteopathy can bring that machinery and preserve its integrity.

But man harnesses not alone the great physical forces, he harnesses the great chemical forces as well; distills them, concentrates them and again makes the physical body the filter for their accidents and surpluses, not to mention that he deliberately makes it the crucible for experiments with them. I say the physical body, it is specifically the endocrine mechanism that is the buffer in this matter. Again the limits of civilisation are those of the endocrine mechanism of life, the limit to which endocrinology will be able to carry and preserve the mechanism of life.

So man will be compelled to discover the body, and in that discovery osteopathy and endocrinology will play prime parts. That these twin sciences will undergo vast development on the road to the complete science of human efficiency there need be no doubt. Already the osteopathic physician finds his work appreciated, not for the cure and prevention of disease only but for the attaining of the highest degree of physical and mental efficiency. This will doubtless go on until every least function of the body is studied with a view to getting the most and best out of it. The study of the body's ills leads to an exploration of its excellencies.

But out of that discovery will come another thing, greater than the elimination of waste, greater than the promotion of the highest possible efficiency of all

20 YEARS OF INDIGESTION

Completely Banished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Sufferers from long standing indigestion learn by experience how utterly useless it is to rely upon the ordinary indigestion mixtures, tablets, etc., for any permanent benefit. But indigestion's victims will find a message of hope in the following statement made by Mrs. Clack, of 5, Osborne Road, Action, London, England.

"For twenty years," she said, "I was a victim of indigestion. I suffered untold agony, with pains in the chest and through the shoulders. Everything I ate caused me great suffering I vomited pints of water. I could not sleep; my head ached terribly. For years I was taking medicines without avail.

"Then Dr. Williams' pink pills were recommended to me, and one bottle was sufficient to make me realise their wonderful powers, so I continued with the pills. My headaches gradually disappeared, and my appetite became better. Soon I could eat without feeling any ill effects, and could sleep 'like a top.' Now I am quite well, all signs of indigestion having disappeared."

You, too, can improve your digestion by beginning Dr. Williams' pink pills now. Of dealers; or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai, at $1.50 per bottle, $8 per six bottles, post free.

What Science Is Doing To Combat The Waste Of Premature Death

human functions, physical and mental; and that is the reorientation of the motives of civilisation.

This new orientation will lead us, in fact, back to the Greek ideal of mens sana in corpore sano, but with a difference. It will lead to great advance in physical beauty, but again with a difference; the difference in this case being that we will recognise in the physical body the distilled summary of the wisdom and experience of life on this planet for all its hundred odd millions of years, or centuries it may be; and we will recognise in that distilled wisdom the origin of many if not most of our mental faculties, as endocrinology reveals to us the origin of the motivation of our thought in the same organs that supply vital motivation to the body.

For that reason we will try to understand it and to realise to the full all of its potentialities. We will go not back to Methuselah but back to monkeys and beyond; we will progress by denying and rising superior to them but by carrying their strivings to the fullest realisation in ourselves.

But this rediscovery of the Greek ideal is merely an incidental result. Greater than that will be the opening of the book of the Greater Revelation, of whose authority and authentjcity there can be no doubt. The opening of the book of the Acts of God, if the phrase may be permissible—the things God made, and did, and just how, and just why; that is, not the acts alone but the methods and aims. Around this revelation will the reorientation of the mind and purpose of civilisation take place. Perhaps it might be interesting to learn that the fundamental doctrines of the Christian religion can be found expressed or paralleled in the laws of life as they are found in this newer revelation, the Book of Life, this exposition of the things that worked in the long process of evolution.

I say the opening of this great book—it is already opened, certainly in many of its chapters; but there is difficulty with the translation. The translation is proceeding slowly. The chief attention has been given to it by surgeons and students of evolution, so far. It has not been translated into terms of popular interest. Artists have been making a translation from their point of view; and a few others. But so far as the understanding of the crowd is concerned it still lies embalmed in the ceremonts of erudition and in the sarcophagus of a dead language. But it will be raised from the dead, and its study will be one of the chief means of leading mankind in the paths toward immortality.

The science of osteopathy, for instance, first shows the relation of the body—that disease is the final expression, the point of exit, the end product, of the strains and jars and violences to which civilised man particulary is subject. That is something that every one can understand. But the next step, arising out of that, is to show that the earning capacity of every laborer may be increased or even multiplied through application of a knowledge of the muscle and bone leverages, for instance, and other things; a matter of dollars and cents. When, however, the really serious business of enjoying life discovers that such a knowledge will enable the pitcher to throw a baseball farther and faster and truer; will enable the golfer to master his stroke; will teach the runner how to train more effectively, adding inches or deducting seconds in his running; and that it will give the spectators something else to be interested in beside the mere movement toward victory or defeat; then may we have the beginnings of a really popular translation of the body and its laws and mechanisms. Some school will discover this some day, and then there will be a race among them all to apply it best.

But that is not all; in fact it is not enough; and in any case it could not end there. All arts begin and all sciences end in this living summary of life's experiences on earth. It is the natural and should be the best foundation for general education, the best material for mental training, the most useful body of knowledge, all at once. It does not matter whether one is studying history or histrionics, astronomy or ballistics, still the core of the subject is the faculties of the living body: and whether one is watching a horse race or grand opera, still will the subject be illuminated in proportion as the beholder can bring to bear the interpretations that this knowledge of the body enables him to bring.

And often have I wondered how any one could dare to be a judge, or a preacher, or a teacher, or a wealthy dispenser of charity, or a mother without this most essential preparation for thinking of life and its problems. Some day mankind—or it may be womankind—will make this discovery. The simple fact is that so far this most valuable magazine of understanding has not been properly translated. But that is coming.

I spoke of another form of waste, the waste of false education. You now see that I have been leading up to that. The grand total of this form of waste is many hundred times that of all the others put together. Civilisation essays to "educate"—in effect it tries to create minds and to train them—all the while having not the faintest real concept of what a mind is like or how it is made or how it functions. The gravest criticisms are leveled at the present day methods of building automatisms in the name of education. A man would not succeed very well in building a house if he had no knowledge of the materials of which the house was made, of the method of assembling such materials, of the capacity of the materials, or, in fact, of the character of the house that was wanted.

But endocrinology is showing us that the activities of the mind depend on motivation, and motivation depends on the endocrine glands—of technique and ideas. And the study of the body such as the osteopathic physician makes leads to the discovery that it is these mechanisms from which the mind learns its axioms and other principles that lie at the basis of the very capacity to think. The body is a sounding board for the eternal principles that operate in the universe, reflecting them onto the consciousness and into the thought. The gap between the mind and the body is bridged, the gap between feeling and life is bridged, the gap between consciousness and the world in which it moves is at last crossed with logic and at least the beginning of understanding.

Just as ever since its discovery the doctrine of evolution has dominated the thought of civilised man and supplied the most for most of his controversies, until it has at last penetrated to the very bottom of the popular mind, so will this subject of the expansion of human capacities and faculties through understanding of them spread. The demand for such training will become a right, and will take its place beside the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; if indeed it will not take its place as the great means to these ends, the chiefest right of all.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tipct rs and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Exchange Fluctuations
Asia Banking Corporation

July 12, 1922
Spot and forward bar silver were each unchanged in London yesterday.
The New York price delined to 70⅝ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 443⅜.
At the opening the official rates here today were unchanged from yesterday.
As the market was easy from the start the official rates were changed twice, the final rate being 3-5⅛ for Sterling T.T. 76½ for Gold Dollars and 62½ for Yen.
In the morning a fair business in Sterling was done at 3-6 for all deliveries to August and in Gold Dollars between 77⅛ and 77⅝.
However, banks were strong buyers at these rates and speculators who heretofore had been quiet became buyers too.
The result was that the rates eased off considerably until at the close there were no sellers of Sterling at better than 3-5⅝ and of Gold Dollars at 77.
There were few bills offering today and there was a strong demand for Franc bills for which probably 990 could have been done at the close.
London report their silver market as steady and quiet.
The New York market is dull with nothing doing.
